

Dear Parents/Carers,

What another fantastic week everyone has had. Thank you for continuing to bring your children into school despite their coughs and colds. Mrs Symmons office could become the local chemist. As you are all aware regular school attendance is vital for children's progress and relationships.

On Wednesday we welcomed the Climate Care charity back into school and once again they gave the children some informative workshops. I understand that there was some interesting debates going on in the upper end of school, especially about climate change and cows!

Kestrel Class had a great time at Launceston College watching their Christmas before Christmas event. The reindeers and snow were a definite hit. This event supports children's opportunities to experience College life including the size and number of pupils.

We had a visit from the Kernow Literacy Hub, who have been supporting the school with the teaching and learning of Read Write Inc phonics. Once again the children (and staff) were praised for their ambition and resilience to learn their sounds and subsequent ability to learn to read.

The Christmas film night was a great event with approximately 55 children attending. A big thank you to the staff who stayed and enabled this event to happen. These events are an additional way of bringing the school together as a whole community.

Next week is going to be jam packed with Christmas performances and I very much look forward to seeing many of you there. We are still a fair few presents down for Christmas shopping day so please have a look in your cupboards and see if there's anything that could be donated.

Have a great weekend
Sally Cook

Fox Class Update

We've had a whirlwind of a couple of weeks! Our key text, "The Extraordinary Gardener," has sparked our imaginations, and we've truly enjoyed it. This book is fantastic for our drawing club. We're also starting to get into the Christmas spirit! We've been busy crafting Christmas decorations for our classroom and really enjoy making paper chains. We can't wait to see you at our Christmas performance next week, and we're diligently practicing our singing and signing to show you all.

Owl Class Update

This week in Owls class has been nothing short of exciting! We kicked off the week by diving into the world of storytelling, creating unique characters to get ready for our own versions of 'Toys in Space.' We put our descriptive skills to the test with expanded noun phrases to paint vivid pictures

In Design Technology, we launched into an adventure of creativity as we designed our fairground wheels. To make sure we captured everyone's ideas, we conducted a whole school survey on how these wheels should be decorated. It was a fantastic way to involve everyone and gather a range of colourful suggestions!

In science, we took a closer look at the life cycle of a butterfly. We marveled at the transformation from caterpillar to chrysalis to beautiful butterfly, sparking lots of curiosity and questions among us. All in all, it has been a week filled with creativity, collaboration, and a dash of science, leaving us eager for next week's adventures!

In RE we have been looking at 'belonging' specifically for the Christian and Muslim communities. We have looked the different objects that a Christian or Muslim may have to show they belong. The children have looked at the variety of ways they belong to different communities, including the school, their class, their rugby or football team and theatre group.

We have also been practicing very hard for our upcoming Christmas Performance of 'Prickly Hay' We are brilliant at singing all the songs now.

Otter Class Update

We've had another great couple of weeks in Otter class. As you may have seen on a recent Facebook post, we had great fun in our History lessons. We took part in a bartering and trading game where we utilised our learning on the Stone Age, Bronze Age and the Iron Age. We have also created some fantastic artwork in Wild Tribe. As you can see from the pictures, we created some autumnal artwork where we learnt about the seasons and how different our environment looks throughout the year.

Kestrel Class News

This week in Literacy, we've been wrapping up our unit and planning the next chapter of Beowulf. The children's ideas are bursting with creativity! In Maths, Year 6 has been learning about measures, while Year 5 has been mastering fractions. We started the week with an eye-opening session from Cornwall Climate Care, where we learnt about climate change and how we can all help make a difference. Later, we enjoyed a magical trip to Launceston Community College for "Christmas Before Christmas." The children had a fantastic time playing in the snow, meeting real reindeer, and watching a festive performance that got us all into the holiday spirit.
