Dear Parents/Carers

I want to begin this newsletter by saying a massive WELL DONE on getting through to the end of Week 4! You and your children have been simply incredible with the online and home learning. Thank you!

Alongside this I want to also say please remember to be kind to yourselves and your children and make sure you are taking breaks and please leave the learning to one side if it causes you and your children anxiety or stress.

Please know that as a parent, my wife and I often put the learning of my own children to one side and leave it alone for a while. It remains such a strange and anxious time for children and adults alike, so please know it's ok not to get it all done, or any of it on a particular day and that no one at school or any of the staff are going to be judging anyone for it - we are ALL finding this hard, you really are not the only one, promise!

Just keep doing what you can, you are all doing your best and that is more than good enough for us. Happiness and calmness is the most important thing at this time and trust your judgement and your knowledge of your children.

I'm sure you are aware that in the news this week, Boris Johnson has announced that there will be consideration of a possible return for some children from March 8th. This is subject to a lot of variables and is not definite, so I will be watching the news closely and will update you as more information becomes available.

What was confirmed this week is that schools across the country including Lewannick, are NOT open for key workers children or key children in the half term. There will also be NO online or home learning, I think everyone needs a well earned break!

Lastly, thank you for your ongoing support in these most challenging of times. We all greatly appreciate it and we will continue to strive to support you and your children throughout this period to the best of our ability.

Remember, if you need anything, we are always here to help in any way we can.

Best wishes

Mr Fugill

Reminder

Next Tuesday afternoon (2nd February) is Number Afternoon. Watch out, in learning packs and on the website, for fun number investigations to have a go at.

Fox Class Update

Last week Fox Class read the story 'The Colour Monster' and made a picture of how they were feeling!

Otter Class Update

This week Otter Class have been writing poems about 'Peculiar Pets' ready to enter a National competition. Watch this space to see how they all got on. They have been discovering all about their digestive systems and the functions of their teeth and have used tights, orange juice and biscuits to do an experiment!

Owl Class Update....

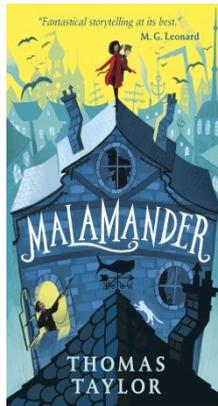

This week Owl Class made time capsules to put in their garden. I wonder who will find them in 100 years time?

We also enjoyed being pirates in PE.

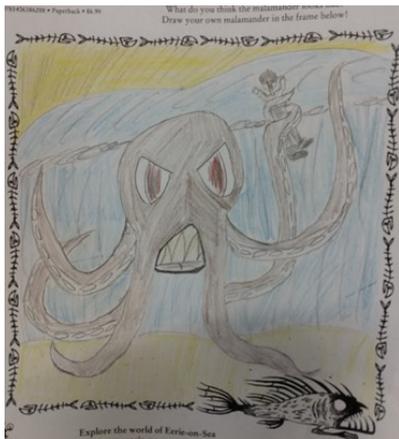

Kestrel Class Update.....

As part of our work this week, Year 6 have been studying the book 'Malamander' by Thomas Taylor. It is based on a small seaside town with a mysterious creature that has potentially snatched away the parents of a young girl who is trying to find them. Mayhem, mystery, mermonkeys and monsters emerge to the delight of the Year 6's who have all thoroughly enjoyed reading the beginning of this book.

Harry G writes: I like Malamander because it's got a lot of surprises and mysteries; I like the characters' names (Violet Parma, Herbie Lemon and Lady Kraken). I also learnt new stuff on the way like a nautilus is a sea creature that still lives today. I love the name of the town 'Eerie-on-Sea' but in summer it is Cheerie-on-Sea. I would recommend this book a lot.
